YOUR HYBRID WORKPLACE PROFILE IS

The Collaborative Hub

Your office is where the best ideas happen together.

Your people come in with purpose: to workshop, solve problems and build relationships. Focused work mostly happens elsewhere. Your office should be designed around teamwork rather than rows of desks, with a clear rhythm of team days so that when people make the trip, the right colleagues are there too.

IN PRACTICE

Sample case: A global technology company replaced 30% of its assigned desks with project rooms and team neighbourhoods when it consolidated onto two floors at One Marina Gateway, 8 Example Street.

Our recommendations

- 1 Rebalance your space toward collaboration: more project rooms, team neighbourhoods and writable walls, fewer assigned desks.
- 2 Agree team anchor days and use desk and room booking to manage peak attendance.
- 3 Make every meeting space hybrid-ready so remote colleagues can contribute equally.
